1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The primary reason for allowance of the article claims is that upon further consideration it is the examiner's opinion that it would not have been obvious to have included a barrier layer between the first and second facing layers. With regard to the method claims, upon further consideration, it is the examiner's opinion that while Gore does teach differential stretching of elastic strips in order to impart different degrees of elasticity, it does not teach differential stretching of strips which are formed into a laminate comprising a first facing material and an opposed second facing material to which the strips or filaments are adhered as in the instant invention. Additionally, the co-pending applications cited by Applicant have been considered.

2. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
